SIRENS AND SONS.

United States Senator Bacon has been rendered practically penniless by the failure of the Exchange bank at Macon, Ga.

The president has been invited to go hunting in Abyssinia after his term expires with Sir John Harrington, the British minister to that country.

Frank Krelstler of Forest county, Pa., was country barber forty years ago and shaved folks for 5 cents a shave. He has just given $10,000 to a local Methodist church.

E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, has purchased the Heber R. Bishop mansion on Fifth avenue, New York, for $700,000. He intends to alter the house extensively and live there.

Lieutenant Colonel Burnley Campbell of the British army has recently succeeded in making a trip around the world in forty days. He left Liverpool on May 3 and arrived back on June 13.

Joseph P. Clough, recently appointed as deputy register of probate at Nashua, N. H., under a special act of the last legislature, is the youngest official in the state. His appointment was delayed until he had become of age.

Ben Vanasek, who five years ago sold newspapers on the streets of Milwaukee and played a cornet in a new-boys' band, has been awarded the grand prize for cornet playing by the National Conservatory of Music at Paris.

Congressman Nehemiah D. Sperry of New Haven, Conn., the oldest member of the house of representatives, recently celebrated his eightieth birthday. He was one of the founders of the Republican party and was a close friend of Lincoln.

Bayard Gray, the new grand lecturing knight of the Elks, is the second son of Isaac Pusey Gray, a former governor of Indiana. His oldest and youngest brothers, Pierre Gray and Bayard Gray, are attorneys at Indianapolis and Frankfort, Ind., respectively.

The Hon. Francis Patrick Clements, who recently worked his way to New York as stoker in a steamer, is said by his brother, Lord Lettrina, to have plenty of money, and it is believed that the young man is simply enjoying his fad for making his own living.

Frank Oakley, known as Silvers, who is one of the most noted of clowns, was intended by his father for an architect. During his odd moments, however, he took to making up as a clown and going out to masquerades in Chicago to capture the prize offered.

In the end he left his position as draughtsman and joined a small circus.

The United States is the richest nation in the world.

A Great Coal Field.

St. George's bay, Newfoundland, contains an immense coal field fully twenty miles in length and ten in breadth.
It has been estimated that if the output were to reach 250,000 tons per annum the coal bed would not be exhausted in a century.

Point Barrow.

Point Barrow, in Alaska, is the farthest point north in this country. To get there one must go to Seattle, then by steamer 1,000 miles to Valdez and then 2,700 miles by sled.

Largest Wooden Buildings.

The parliament building in Wellington, New Zealand, is the largest wooden structure in the world. In Wellington and some other New Zealand towns almost every house is constructed of wood. So likewise are large churches and business houses.

Algerian Sharpshooters.

Many tales are told by travelers of the wonderful skill of the Algerians in handling rifles. The native Algerian would rank with our expert rifle shooters.

Coal.

The total consumption of coal in the world is 50,000,000 tons an hour.

Divorce Laws.

A man who has given the subject a great deal of variety says that there is a greater variety to be found among divorce laws of different nations than among the laws governing any other event.

The Cottonwood Tree.

The cottonwood tree endures great extremes of temperature and when the roots can reach a good supply of moisture it successfully withstands severe droughts. It is a fast growing tree and demands plenty of light. On irrigated lands cottonwoods have been known to attain a diameter of fourteen inches in eight years.

A Frog Barometer.

A curious barometer used in Germany and Switzerland consists of a jar of water with a frog and a little stepladder in it. When the frog comes out of the water and sits on the steps it is said infallibly to foretell rain.

Monte Carlo.

There is only one day in the year on which the inhabitants of Monte Carlo are allowed to gamble at the casino tables. That day is the Prince of Monaco's birthday.

The Price of a Feast.

A small boy whose tastes were bucolic found a melon and thought it a frolic.
So he ate every bit.
And they found him that night
In a state that was quite meloncolic.
